

Dear sir or madam,

My name is [REDACTED], and I would like to apply for the German freelance visa. I intend to work as a freelance software developer in Berlin.

I settled in Berlin in 201[REDACTED] to work as a developer for [REDACTED], then for [REDACTED]. I have 7 years of professional software development experience, including 4 years of freelancing experience. I have also studied computer science for 6 years in [REDACTED]. I have expertise with frontend development, backend development, software architecture and build automation. These skills are in high demand in Germany, so I am confident in my ability to find work.

Since I already live in Berlin, I have an apartment, health insurance and significant savings. I also have a professional network that can help me find more work in the future.

I believe that my experience, my preparedness and the strong demand for experienced developers give me a solid chance of success in Germany. I hope that in the light of those facts, you will grant me the necessary visa to grow my freelance career in Berlin.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]
